U. S. COTTON ESTIMATE 12,400,000 BALES

INCREASE IN COTTON CROP FORECAST WAS ANNOUNCED MONDAY

INDICATED PRODUCTION OF 12,400,000 BALES IS FAR ABOVE MONTH AGO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. —(P)—The department of agriculture reported an increase of 791,000 bales in the estimated cotton crop of this year, bringing the total to 12,400,000 bales on November 1 as compared with an estimated yield of 11,609,000 bales a month earlier.

The marked increase in "prospective outturn results from fall weather that has been almost ideal for the maturing and picking of the crop," the crop reporting board said.

The crop estimators said that when average fall weather conditions prevailed there was "usually some loss of open cotton in the fields, but this season practically no losses of this kind have occurred."

Delay in arrival of frost this year was said to have "permitted the maturing of a large portion of the late bolls which were in danger a month ago," in the Carolinas and along the northern part of the cotton belt.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. —(P)—An indicated cotton crop of 12,400,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight was reported today by the agriculture department in its November report. A month ago 11,609,000 bales were forecast. Last year's production was 10,638,000 bales, according to the report.

Cotton of this year's growth gained prior to November 1 was reported by the census bureau to have totaled 9,850,968 running bales, counting round and half bales, compared with 7,748,612 bales to date a year ago, and 7,917,871 bales two years ago.

The indicated yield of cotton was reported by the agriculture department as 199.7 pounds per acre on the 29,720,000 acres estimated as of Sept. 1 to be harvested this year. The acre yield last year was 156.3 pounds to the acre and the 1923-24 average was 169.9 pounds.

The crop by states as indicated Nov. 1 is:

Virginia	33,000	bales;	North Carolina	625,000	South Carolina	825,000	Georgia	1,100,000	Florida	32,000	Missouri	29,000	Tennessee	435,000	Alabama	1,155,000	Mississippi	1,900,000	Louisiana	755,000	Texas	3,005,000	Oklahoma	300,000	Arkansas	1,245,000	New Mexico	107,000	Arizona	150,000	California	420,000	all other states	13,000	Old Mexico (Lower California)	not included in United States or California total	60,000

She located Mrs. Burks and made a telephone appointment to meet her. Deputy Sheriff Seth went with Mrs. Sikes when she kept the appointment.

COLD WAVE BRINGS SERIES FATAL FIRES DURING PAST WEEKEND

THERMOMETER, HOWEVER, REACHED FREEZING ONLY IN TEXAS PANHANDLE

(By The Associated Press.)

A week-end wave of chill which brought a series of fatal fires in Texas, moderated today, thermometers sinking to freezing in only one section of the state—the Panhandle.

Nine lives were lost as the wintry blasts swept the state. Five deaths were blamed on the cold.

An exploding oil cook stove fatally burned Carl Self, 32, and his daughter, Wanda Nadine, at Brady. At Kilgore an unidentified man died when his two-room shack burned.

Joe Roosen, 37, a farmer, was killed when a flames destroyed a flimsy shelter at Houston. The four children of Mrs. Clea Nerla burned to death at Dallas, their home was consumed by flames.

Flames from an open stove caught the dress of Mrs. Clara Harris 81, of Abilene and fatally burned the woman.

Many persons suffered critical burns in these and other fires.

A Texasarkana fire gutted the Princess Theater with an estimated loss of $10,000. Flames caught backstage. The theater was empty.

Today Amarillo temperatures sank to freezing. It was the only point in the state reporting 32 degrees. Mercuries at Abilene, San Antonio, Austin, Dallas and Houston slid to 40 degrees.

Weather observers said warmth was anticipated for the northern portions of the state with light rains in Central Texas and unsettled conditions on the coast.

SUPREME COURT IN UNANIMOUS VERDICT FOR TEXAS STATUTE

DECISION TEXAS COURT OF APPEALS UPHOLDING LAW WAS UPHELD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. —(P)—A Texas statute imposing an occupation tax on oil produced within the state was held constitutional today by the supreme court.

A decision by the Texas court of Civil Appeals upholding the law was affirmed by the high court in a unanimous ruling delivered by Justice Van Devanter.

The legislation was challenged as unconstitutional by Joseph H. Barwise and George Thompson Jr., trustees of the estate of Mrs. M. M. Cook who owned a well in Shackelford county.

They contended the two percent tax impaired their contracts with the lessee of the oil well, the Humble Oil and Refining company. They said they did not produce oil but merely owned royalty under the leases.

William McCraw, attorney general of Texas, replied that the "federal questions sought to be raised here are frivolous and the case should be dismissed." He said the tax was for general revenue purposes and was distributed equitably.

Government Lost Tax Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. —(P)—The government lost today in the supreme court in its effort to collect $300,000 in 1931 taxes from the Galveston-Houston Electric company, a holding company which owned a group of electric light plants and railway plants, an ice business and a bus line at or in the vicinity of Galveston and Houston, Texas.

The tribunal refused to review a ruling of the Massachusetts federal district court and the first circuit court of appeals disallowing the government's claim.

They upheld the company's contention.

Murder, Suicide Ended Lives Aged California Couple

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9. —(P)—An aged woman killed her 91-year-old husband with a razor, police reported today, then committed suicide by hanging.

Detective Lieutenants Frank Howard and William Beard termed the deaths of Charles Johnson, 91, and his wife, Anna, murder and suicide.

A grandson of the aged couple, Earl Sargent, found the bodies in their home this morning. Johnson was in a rocking chair, blood on the quilt that covered him, and a razor on the floor. His throat had been slashed.

Illness Director May Delay Texas Jobless Insurance

AUSTIN, Nov. 9. —(P)—Illness of R. B. Anderson, director of the Texas unemployment compensation commission, may delay setting up administration under the new jobless insurance act.

Anderson, confined to his home all last week, was reported little improved.

The commission also awaits appointment by Governor Allred of another member. Anderson, formerly state tax commissioner, was named chairman. Wallace Reilly, secretary of the Texas Federation of Labor, was appointed to represent labor. The third member will represent employers.

Among the commissions' first tasks will be formulation and adoption of regulations, provision of a budget and appointment of a personnel director.

STORMY, WIDELY PUBLICIZED COURTSHIP OF BARRYMORE AND BARRIE IS ENDED BY WEDDING

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 9. —(P)—John Barrymore brought his party to return to Hollywood today and declared:

"I didn't know my getting married was so important. It seems I chased the king off the front page today."

They were married at midnight at Yuma, Ariz. They flew there from Hollywood but returned by train.

Barrymore's fourth marriage came as a romantic shock to Hollywood.

YUMA, Ariz., Nov. 9. —(P)—The stormy, cross-country courtship of John Barrymore and Elaine Barrie took an unexpected side trip here early today and the Ariel-Claiban romance culminated in a simple marriage ceremony in the home of the "marrying judge," Justice of the Peace Earl A. Freeman.

A rough trip by air to this little desert city on the banks of the Colorado river failed to dim the gaiety of the wedding party which included the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jacobs of New York and Aaron Sapir, Los Angeles attorney, but it persuaded the party to return to Hollywood by train.

The interval between the wedding and departure of the train gave them time enough for a hasty breakfast at a small cafe, but most of the time was spent greeting well-wishers who quickly recognized the couple.

Elaine earnestly clasped a small horseshoe, given her a moment after the ceremony by Judge Freeman with the admonition:

"Keep this with you always. It always will bring you luck."

MARITIME STRIKE SPREADS MONDAY TO COAST SHIPYARDS

RENEWED HOPES OF EARLY SETTLEMENT RAISED BY CONFERENCE

By The Associated Press.

San Francisco's maritime strike spread into the shipyards today while Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, made desperate efforts to bring shipping interests and workers into a new conference to end the ten-day tieup which has reached to Atlantic and Gulf ports.

Officials of the joint strike committee at San Francisco announced a walkout of approximately 6,000 workers at three big areas plants of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation took effect today.

At the Bethlehem Company's Union works, where two United States destroyers are under construction, union pickets were ordered on duty under the eyes of a special detachment of San Francisco police.

McGrady announced resumption of conferences between shipowners and representatives of at least one of the striking unions. The time and place of the meetings, he said, would be decided after opening at San Francisco of a United States maritime commission hearing, also set for today.

At New York Joseph Curran, chairman of the defense committee, said 231 ships were idle and 16,886 men were on strike in Atlantic and Gulf ports. The American Steamship Owners' Association retorted the statistics were exaggerated, and that eleven ships are actually tied up, the association announced.

Violence is feared.

Curran charged the owners were employing "notorious police characters" and "professional strike breakers" to procure crews and said such action "will no doubt begin violence and terrorism on the waterfront."

The New York harbor was calm.

STEAMER MISSING AFTER SENDING OUT CALLS FOR HELP

LONDON, Nov. 9. —(P)—The German liner Westernland today rescued a lone survivor of the lost motorship Isis, the London office of the Hamburg-Amerika line was informed, but found no trace of some 39 other members of the crew.

The survivor, a cabin boy, was taken aboard the Westernland from a lifeboat, near the spot where the Isis called for assistance during a raging storm last night.

That was approximately 200 miles east of Aind's End.

Winds of Gale velocity today forced the cancellation of channel air and water services and sent waves dashing against coastal buildings at Folkestone.

The British Queen Mary and two other vessels answered the Isis' SOS.

HEARST IS REFUSED INJUNCTION AGAINST SENATE COMMITTEE

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS HOLDS COURTS POWERLESS IN CASE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. —(P)—Pointing to separation by the constitution of the powers of a president, congress and the courts, the United States court of appeals held today that the judiciary cannot interfere with a congressional committee.

The court declined to grant an injunction sought by William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, against the senate lobby investigating committee's retention and use of Hearst telegrams taken from telegraph companies.

It rebuked, however, the federal communications commission for copying thousands of telegrams in communications companies' files in 1935 and furnishing them to the senate committee, which is headed by Senator Hugo Black.

INSURGENT SHELLS RAINED INTO CITY'S PRINCIPAL SQUARE

ARTILLERY AND AIRPLANES DROP SHELLS AND BOMBS UPON SPANISH CAPITAL

By The Associated Press.

Fascist aerial fleets spilled great bombs on the city limit fortifications of Madrid in four vicious waves today while insurgent shells ripped business streets and buildings.

Determined grimly to open a path for the Moors, Legionnaires and fascist regulars stopped by the last ditch defense of the capital, five bi-motor bombing planes and a half dozen pursuit ships flew low over the new line of fortifications just inside the city limits shortly before 3 p. m.

Starting at the Toledo bridge the planes bombed the western and southern rims of the city and then, wheeling south, repeated the performance.

It was the fourth time the capital's new fortifications had been blasted within the last 24 hours.

Red Cross data available immediately after the bombing said at least 20 were killed and many wounded in the newest assault. These casualties were added to 30 wounded in morning bombardments and between 100 and 200 killed or wounded Sunday by shells and air bombs.

Insurgent shells rained into Madrid's "Times Square" today, wounding thirty persons, as socialists and fascist snipers fought gun battles in the city's streets.

Furious fighting raged all along the western and southern sides of the capital.

Aiming with deadly accuracy, fascist artillery hurled shells into the downtown and central district, bombarded the Presidential Palace and wrecked the Madrid Electric company's offices on the Gran Via.

One shell blew a great hole in the pavement in the Puente Del Sol gateway to the sun—in the heart of the city.

Overhead, fascist planes again bombed and machine-gunned the city in a fourteen-plane attack.

Anti-aircraft guns blazed away at the daring raiders, but the fascist planes dived away unperturbed, dropping six bombs on the government fortifications at the Toledo bridge before retiring.

Many Die As Buildings Wrecked.

Twenty-three persons, including established, were killed in the Puente Vallecas section Sunday when six workers' apartment buildings collapsed under an insurgent bombardment. Many others were injured.

FOUR TRAINMEN ARE KILLED IN COLLISION OF FREIGHT TRAINS

ACCIDENT OCCURRED ON THE LOUISIANA AND ARKANSAS LINE NEAR JENA

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 9. —(P)—Four trainmen were killed and several injured today in a collision of Louisiana and Arkansas freight trains near Grant, 17 miles north of Jena, on the Vidalia branch. The dead are H. G. Hunter, engineer, Shreveport, formerly of Portsmouth, Ohio; C. C. Steelman, fireman, El Dorado, Ark.; S. M. Wright, train rider on one of the engines, address unknown and Prentiss Frazier, negro brakeman.

Those injured were J. P. O'Brian, fireman, leg broken; J. T. Edwards, engineer, leg broken; John Alsop, conductor, ribs broken, and J. S. Newsom, brakeman, injuries undetermined.

L. and A. officials said two wreckers had been sent out of Shreveport and the dead and injured would be brought here.

Details of the collision were lacking, but, according to officials of the road here, one of the trains was thought to have overrun "wall" orders which caused the collision.

The collision occurred between freight train No. 51, southbound on the Vidalia branch of the L. and A., and another train, known officially as the "Dodger" which did switching in and about a 20 mile area around Georgetown.

Train No. 51, of which Hunter was the engineer, had orders, said to wait at Grant, south of Georgetown, for the "Dodger," but apparently did not do so, as the collision occurred after No. 51 had passed Grant.

A Conductor Alsop reported that Engineer Hunter, seeing the impending head-on collision, jumped.

Roosevelt Still Busy on Budget; Officials Heard

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. —(P)—In a message to the third national conference on labor legislation, President Roosevelt said today he believed the country had this last week given a mandate in unmistakable terms to its legislators and executives "to adopt needed labor legislation."

The President said he believed the mandate had directed the legislators "to proceed along these lines until working people throughout the nation and in every station are assured decent working conditions, including safe and healthful places of work, adequate care and support when incapacitated by reason of accident, industrial disease, unemployment, or old age; reasonably short working hours; adequate annual income, proper housing and elimination of child labor."

The conference was urged by Mr. Roosevelt to "give serious consideration as to how these objectives may be achieved and that when you return to your states you will assume the leadership in your communities for putting the necessary legislation on the statute books."

"I assure you that the federal government is willing to do its part in making these standards effective and in supplementing the efforts of the states when problem-assured an interstate or a national character."

"This coming year should be an outstanding one in the annals of labor legislation."

Washington, Nov. 9. —(P)—Continuing work on estimates for the 1937-38 federal budget, President Roosevelt today called in for White House conferences officials of the relief and veterans agencies.

After a 45-minute meeting with Daniel W. Bell, acting budget director, the chief executive held a half-hour conference with Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator.

Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, and head of the National Youth administration, and the advisory committee of the NYA, followed Hopkins for a 15-minute parley.

Secretary Roper of the commerce department then was given a quarter hour audience before Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs took up annual estimates for his agency.

WEDDING

"Did you hear that, dear?" the bride asked, turning to her new husband.

"My dear," Barrymore answered gallantly, "I don't need that; with you I'll have nothing but luck."

Laughing together they dashed arm in arm for the car that took them to the impromptu wedding breakfast.

Barrymore had said he was responsible for resumption of the romance that kept most of the country following railroad schedules not work on a picture, but added that later he and the fourth Mrs. Barrymore will appear together on the screen and the stage.

The marriage today followed exactly a month his final divorce from Dolores Costello Barrymore, who obtained an interlocutory decree Oct. 9, 1935.

PRESIDENT GIVEN TUMULTUOUS WELCOME ON RETURN CAPITAL

DECLARES HE CAME BACK TO "TRY TO BALANCE THE BUDGET"

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—President Roosevelt stepped into the arms of an uproarious welcome today as he came "home," victorious from the election campaign wars.

Members of his cabinet, others high in the new deal, thousands upon thousands of government workers, school children, and non-governmental working men, women and children, lined up along the railroad station and along flag draped Pennsylvania avenue to cheer a chief executive who had declared he came back to "try to balance the budget, thereby carrying out the first campaign pledge."

Even as Mr. Roosevelt returned, however, he looked forward to more travel. His aides held out a strong possibility that shortly he would dash by cruiser to Buenos Aires to open the Pan-American Peace Conference, December 1. The Union Station crowd, estimated by Major Ernest W. Brown, superintendent of police at "well over 100,000," sent a cheer rolling for nearly a mile as the president opened his brief address with the familiar: "My friends."

Smiling, and obviously still happy over his landslide election victory, Mr. Roosevelt added: "I formed the very good habit of coming to Washington when I was five years old and I am glad that habit will not be broken during the next four years."

Wonderful Greeting. The roars that sounded again when the chief executive referred to those in the crowded station Plaza as "My old neighbors" and expressed thanks for a "wonderful greeting," echoed in a flowing wave as the presidential motorcade advanced up the crowded Pennsylvania avenue.

A motorcycle escort of 20 policemen preceded the president's car as it moved along the famous "Street of Parades." Hat in hand, smiling broadly, up the street rode first to one side and then to the other to citizens lined four and five deep along the roped-off curbsides.

The hastily but effectively organized "welcome home" celebration for the president today presented sharp contrast to the usual reaction of Washington to the arrival of a presidential train. Usually a chief executive's coming and goings draw but scant attention.

Eleven Bands Make Music. The brave bands of eleven bands enlivened the welcome and sped the presidential procession to the Union Station after the Union Station greeting.

Police made preparations for a crowd of 200,000 at the station and along the line of the "parade," and high police officials estimated that close to that number of people would be on hand. Government workers were told it was all right for them to be late to work. School children were released. Stores delayed their usual early morning opening.

For the immediate future, the president expects to remain in Washington about ten days, then leave for a southern tour, to take the cruiser Indianapolis Nov. 17 for a fishing cruise, probably in Caribbean waters.

Should he decide to extend the voyage for a one day stop at the Argentine capital, officials estimated would not return to Washington before Dec. 23, leaving only three weeks to make final preparations for the opening of the 75th congress.

Will Speak Tonight.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—President Roosevelt and Gerard Swope, national chairman of mobilization, will speak tonight from 10 to 10:30 p. m. Eastern Standard time over the Columbia and a half-hour program for the mobilization for human needs.

U. S. Chamber Of Commerce Is Most Optimistic

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(P)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today spoke out with high optimism on economic conditions, saying that business momentum "is impressive, both in its extent and in its promise for the period ahead."

In its publication, "Washington Review," the chamber cited one favorable factor after another to support the conclusion: "When all the evidence is brought together in an endeavor to consider the sum total of economic activity throughout the country, it appears unmistakably that since the summer of 1935 there has been steady progress."

Although such a prolonged advance might ordinarily suggest a temporary recession in the near future, the chamber reported that such a recession does not appear in present economic cards.

"Consideration of the elements which enter into national activity, both by business fields and by consumers," was said, "makes it clear that during the last 17 months the most significant development has been the improvement in balance, among the fields of enterprise and among the areas of the country."

STOCKHOLDERS HELD LIABLE RFC LOAN TO BANK THAT FAILED ABOUT $12,000,000 MAY BE COLLECTED ON GOVERNMENT LOAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(P)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson ruled today that Illinois stockholders of the defunct Central Republic Bank and Trust Company are liable for a share of the $12,000,000 "Dawes Loan" which may total $12,500,000. Judge Wilkerson also held the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to be a constitutional agency.

The judge's decision was in favor of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which loaned the money to the "Dawes Bank" in 1932, and against more than 3,000 Illinois citizens who held bank stock.

They owned about $12,500,000 worth of the shares, and today's ruling called upon them to pay dollar for dollar under a section of the Illinois constitution putting a special liability on holders of bank stock. Special defenses have been asserted by some of the stockholders and if successful would cut down the total payment.

Gen. Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the bank when the loan was negotiated, was a stockholder and a nominal defendant in the case, but is not affected on his personal holdings. He held 52 shares, and voluntarily paid up, before trial. The sum was $52,000.

The $12,000,000 was loaned to the Central Republic in the midst of the 1932 banking crisis, when it was feared that if the big institution toppled it would shake the entire middle west.

REGISTRATION OF WORKERS FOR OLD AGE PENSION OPEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(P)—The government registration of 20,000,000 workers for old age pension accounts will begin Nov. 16. Making the announcement today, the security board said 45,000 workers will be distributed to employers on that date a form known as the "employer's application for identification number."

Each employer will be asked how many are in his employ and the employees in turn will begin receiving blanks labeled "application for social security account number" on November 24.

Each employee will receive a card with a warning printed thereon to preserve it because "it shows the account number used in keeping records of your social security benefit rights under federal and state laws."

The board urged both employers and employees, as well as the public, to refrain from making inquiries either at the board or postoffice concerning the registration of workers.

CORSICANA JUNIORS TO OPPOSE REAGAN TEMPLE THURSDAY

Corsicana Junior Panthurs will entertain the Reagan Temple Juniors in a Central Texas Junior High School League conference game here Thursday. Reagan has been defeated this season, but due to intense rivalry, is expected to fight the Panthurs to a standstill.

Coach L. C. Seay's club is not pleased with their scoreless tie with the South Waco Panthurs Thursday night and are working hard in an effort to be able to remove the Reagan combination on this occasion.

Local Firemen To Repair And Refinish Toys

For the fourth consecutive year, members of the Corsicana fire department are preparing to repair and refinish toys and similar articles for distribution to children of unemployed families in the approaching holiday season.

Already this year they have repaired a number of broken and discarded toys supplied them through their co-operation of Corsicana merchants, and Chief E. L. Keith announced Friday that his men were now ready for contributions from the public at large according to the custom followed for the past few years.

During the past three years they have repaired, repainted and generally overhauled thousands of toys ranging from wooden blocks to tricycles and wagons, for distribution to the children of the unfortunate families of the city through some of the established welfare agencies.

Chief Keith asked that all Corsicana residents who had discarded or broken toys that were no longer used by their children, to bring them to the city hall, or call the department (telephone 383) and someone would call for the contributions. He pointed out the advantage of receiving the toys early so that the men could work on them in their spare time and have everything in readiness without a final rush.

CLOSE RANGE PISTOL BATTLE LEAVES TWO MEN DEAD IN TULSA

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 6.—(P)—A close range pistol duel in a drug store between an officer and a suspected forger, followed by the bullet-punctured body of the fugitive to a printing shop left two men dead today with one seriously and another slightly wounded.

The man who was killed outright was identified by police papers in his possession as James Edward Moore, address unestablished. Later the federal bureau of investigation said his fingerprint classification, called "white," was the same as a convict escaped from the Missouri state penitentiary three years ago.

Albert Yowell, 35, furniture store employee, died of bullet wounds in the abdomen and below the heart last night several hours after the shooting.

W. M. Clark, 56, veteran police officer, was given a fighting chance to recover from abdominal wounds.

William Riley, negro porter, suffered a minor bullet wound.

Conscious and declaring he was "going to pull through," Clark said he had been shot in the chest, arm and leg and told him he was under arrest on a forged complaint the man declared he "hadn't done anything," drew a pistol and started firing.

Clark replied, shot for shot. While patrons and employees scrambled for cover, Clark dropped and Moore fled into an alley. He sought to enter the side of a building, but Yowell apparently accosted him. Moore fired three shots into Yowell's body and took temporary refuge in a doorway. As he ran from that spot Officer Bert Champion and Earl Beidle fired two shots at him.

A block away Moore entered a printing shop. There Champion, a ranking member of the police, pistol pointed, found him partly hidden and brought him down with two shots. The man was dead when an ambulance arrived.

UNBALANCED BUDGET PROBLEM ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

JUST WHAT NEW DEAL PROGRAM WILL BE IS NOT YET INDICATED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(P)—As President Roosevelt tackled the unbalanced budget problem today, it became apparent that heavy pressure for and against an expanded and expensive new deal program is shaping up.

The feeling grew in many quarters of the capital that a conservative division on the fiscal policy of the republic is inevitable result.

With speculation about the Roosevelt course unabated, the president called in Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget, for the first of many meetings to formulate the fiscal policy ahead. In time, other conferences will be held on the related questions of relief and industrial-reemployment policies. All these brought party schisms in reconstruction.

The president drew support from both in the legislative program. Officials are frankly reluctant to discuss the possibilities, pending word about his intentions. It is generally accepted, however, that the nature of many industrial campaigns for senate and house—Republican as well as democratic—foreshadowed much voting across party lines.

Sally Rand Of Nude Ranch Fame To Buy Real One

FORT WORTH, Nov. 6.—(P)—Sally Rand, dancer who recently completed an engagement at the Frontier, Centennial celebration here, announced today she would purchase a Texas ranch and become a resident of the state.

Miss Rand said negotiations for an 84,000-acre ranch on the Texas border near Laredo had been in progress with a San Antonio real estate firm for three weeks and probably would be completed before Christmas. If terms are not agreed upon she said she would buy a ranch in some other section.

Local Firemen To Repair And Refinish Toys

For the fourth consecutive year, members of the Corsicana fire department are preparing to repair and refinish toys and similar articles for distribution to children of unemployed families in the approaching holiday season.

Already this year they have repaired a number of broken and discarded toys supplied them through their co-operation of Corsicana merchants, and Chief E. L. Keith announced Friday that his men were now ready for contributions from the public at large according to the custom followed for the past few years.

During the past three years they have repaired, repainted and generally overhauled thousands of toys ranging from wooden blocks to tricycles and wagons, for distribution to the children of the unfortunate families of the city through some of the established welfare agencies.

Chief Keith asked that all Corsicana residents who had discarded or broken toys that were no longer used by their children, to bring them to the city hall, or call the department (telephone 383) and someone would call for the contributions. He pointed out the advantage of receiving the toys early so that the men could work on them in their spare time and have everything in readiness without a final rush.

RED FLANNEL VIRTUES.

Here is some social doctrine that may be unpleasant, but is probably sound. A prominent clergyman tells his people:

"It will probably not be as easy to get rich quickly in the future. But men do not have to get rich quickly. There will probably be fewer millionaires in the future, but men do not have to be millionaires to be happy."

"Opportunity to follow the bent of their best interests and talents, and a chance to earn a respectable living, with no unmerited want darkening their lives, are all to which free men are entitled."

"If these opportunities and chances are wrapped up with a lot of hard work and struggle, so much the better. The grandfathers of this generation had no easy time. If their grandchildren of today are having no easy time, that is so much to the good."

"There will be plenty of opportunity for advancement in the future. But these opportunities will come to those willing to earn them by hard work, by devoted industry and by habits of diligence and perseverance—the old, homely 'red flannel' virtues that a generation of golf-clubbing and night-clubbing youth lost sight of for a time and is now painfully rediscovering."

A distinction must be made here. The opportunities referred to are apparently those for making money. Opportunities for useful service and honor will probably be greater than they have been."

A PHILOSOPHER'S PLAN.

The following "Blueprint for a Better America" proposed by Will Durant, a brilliant philosopher and student of social problems, includes these proposals:

1. Creation of a national council of 24 members for consideration of long range national problems.

2. Revival of the old wedding dowry system, to restore marriage at the natural age for it.

3. Administration of national relief by the Red Cross Society.

4. Establishment of a United States Civil Academy at Washington to educate people for public service.

5. Readjustment of salaries providing for a rise with marriage and the birth of each child.

6. Code of honor adapted to needs of modern life to be taught in every school, engraved on every diploma and sworn to at graduations.

7. Replacement of state and municipal police by a system of state police led by an officer of the United States army.

8. Federal, state and national governments to pledge themselves not to add to the public debt or the rate of taxation on incomes, property or industry.

These recommendations are still interesting and worth thinking about. Some of them will commend themselves to many people, particularly the first, third, fourth, fifth and sixth. The seventh might lead to militarism. The eighth, though laudable in purpose, could hardly be practical; the pledge would be broken in times of stress.

JUST FOLKS

DREAD ON A DISMAL DAY.

The wind is from the north and cold,
The skies are leaden gray
And Henry, faithful friend of old,
Is out upon the bay!

All day I've heard the storm king roar
His dirges dire and harsh.
His winter coming in once more,
And Henry's on the marsh!

And all day long I've worried so.
Where fires of comfort burn.
For as I gazed to see him go,
I'll sigh at his return.

I know just what the end will be,
And that is what I fear!
He'll bring unfeathered ducks to me!
He does it every year.

I hear the tempests rage and roar
And know just what they mean!
He'll come with mallards to my door,
Which I shall have to clean.

WAR DEBUNKED

Romance and sentiment are vanishing from war. Perhaps they always were rather imaginary, existing more in retrospect, in the memories of veterans and the creations of poets and romancers rather than actually at the time of conflict. Probably wars have always been mostly blood, dirt, hate, cruelty, pain, hunger, desolation and general reversion to savagery, however disguised by historians and fictionists.

That was easier in the old days, when wars were largely local and far away, when communication was slow, and facilities for following current campaigns and battles scarcely existed. Now, when telegraph and radio and newspapers make distant battles a part of the day's news, when pictures of war horrors can be flashed through the air and reproduced within a few hours, it is different. All can see the ugly realities while they are still ugly.

The whole civilized world might almost be said to sit in a grandstand and see these rebel war planes raining bombs on Madrid and its suburbs, the women and children blown to pieces in city parks, the blood spattered over the walls and images of a church as a shell crashes through the roof, the bodies lying among the ruins of historic forts, the defenders dying like rats, the children armed and sniping at besiegers, all the horrors of civil warfare and mass slaughter made more efficient by the marvellous mechanism of what we quaintly call "modern civilization."

Seeing these things so intimately, we are not thrilled but horrified. And thus, even while selfishness and suspicion and economic rivalry seem to drive nations relentlessly toward war, a stronger prejudice develops against war.

PUNISHMENT COMING.

It is going to be a hard winter, according to Charley Big Knife, Chippewa weather prophet of upper Michigan, who claims to have a flawless forecasting record for 40 years. Buying his winter supplies at Marquette two weeks earlier than usual, he delivered himself as follows:

"Bear, muskrat, beaver, mink, loon and wild goose all say cold winter, and they do not lie. The goose went south early. The muskrat built his house in a hurry and the bear came out of the swamp to look for a place to sleep. Fish tell the same thing. The brook trout run up creek to spawn, not waiting for November. The frog has buried himself two feet in the mud, as in the winter of 1917-18."

And why this weather menace? Charley has a simple explanation. "Gitche Manitou (the Great Spirit) is on the war path. He will punish white people for talking all the time about election." It sounds plausible.

The way to stop war is suggested by a little girl that Alexander Woolcott tells about: "Some time they'll get all ready to have a war, and the people won't come."

Well, folks, now that Wally has got her divorce and nothing more can be done in that matter for six months, we can go ahead with our own affairs.

"Goofy, we should have stood home or took our fur overcoats"

THE SALVATION ARMY

Everyone is familiar with the activities of the Salvation Army nationally and locally.

The organization has a very important place in the every day life of Corsicana and Navarro county.

The benefits of the organization reach many places and persons, bringing cheer, food and warmth to those who otherwise suffer the misfortune of poverty and sickness.

It is an organization that deserves the support of the citizenship and is an organization that accomplishes much for the betterment of the community in which it is located.

At the present the local unit of the Salvation Army is soliciting funds that it will be able to carry on the work for another twelve months.

The citizenship has always met this responsibility in a liberal manner. There is nothing to indicate the campaign will be other than the success it has always been in the past.

All agencies dealing in charity must have funds with which to operate. The unfortunates in our midst must be cared for. The Salvation Army deserves the support it has heretofore received from our citizenship. Continued support is to be expected.

EASY MONEY

Easy come, easy go. William Coyle of Cincinnati, who won $20,000 in the English Derby sweepstakes six months ago and gave up his job to concentrate on enjoying his fortune, has come back to work—and is glad of the chance. He is also giving moral advice to others following the same lure that undid him. If he ever wins anything again, he's going to hang onto it. He'll keep his job and put the money in the bank and leave it there.

So he says. But will he? He would be more convincing if he spoke of future earnings rather than winnings. People who get easy money usually say they're going to use it wisely, but seldom do.

Generally speaking, the only money we use sensibly is what we have worked hard for.

We're not quite so sure any more that the Creator conferred a boon on mankind when He gave us the gift of speech.

Some folks now want to give Wallis a great big hand, but we guess the little girl can take care of herself.

SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN IS FAR BELOW ITS QUOTA

Mrs. Phil T. Rainey, state Salvation Army envoy, in charge of the annual Army drive which opened here yesterday, said a few of the committees have reported, and while the amount thus far received is far short of the $3,000 quota, the response has been encouraging. She is asking all committees and workers to report their results to the citadel either Friday afternoon or Saturday morning, in order that an accurate report of their collections can be made.

J. M. Dyer is chairman of the drive.

F. GERALD DROUGHT OF SAN ANTONIO IS KILLED AUTO CRASH

MEN IN ANOTHER CAR INJURED AND CHARGED WITH AUTOMOBILE THEFT

WACO, Nov. 6.—(F)—A collision with two Illinois men allegedly driving a stolen automobile killed Frederick Gerald Drought, brother of H. P. Drought, state WPA administrator and seriously injured a companion, Miss Shirley Johns of Waco, today.

Drought, 33 and a resident of San Antonio, was driving toward Waco on the Temple highway. The cars collided head-on. Officers charged Charles Hoeftner and Aleck Wagner of Mount Vernon, Ill., with theft over $50. Police said they believed the automobile the Illinois men were driving had been stolen from R. E. Ford of Reagan yesterday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Jess Stanfield, who investigated the case, said both men were seriously hurt.

Cars Meet on Hill.
Drought, driving toward Waco with Miss Johns, was attempting to pass a car operated by Ollie Johnson of Houston when he met the purportedly stolen vehicle in the middle of the road near the top of a hill.

Johnson's car was forced off the road but he was not injured. He picked Miss Johns out of the wreckage of the other two cars and rushed her into Waco Ambulance. The three injured men, Drought dying after he reached a hospital.

Drought's body was sent to San Antonio, where funeral services will be held tomorrow. He lived at 1215 North St. Mary street. Surviving Drought were his mother and three brothers, H. P. Drought, H. L. Drought and F. T. Drought, all of San Antonio. Drought was employed as an engineer for the Brazos Valley Conservation District, operating out of Temple.

Prominent San Antonian
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6.—(F)—Gerald F. Drought, member of a prominent San Antonio family, was killed in a head-on auto accident near Waco shortly after midnight.

Drought's companion, a Miss Johns, daughter of Warren Johns, prominent Waco business man, was seriously injured and two occupants of the other car also were gravely hurt, it was reported. Drought died an hour and a half after the accident in the Providence sanitarium at Waco.

According to H. P. Drought, who is state WPA director, Gerald Drought was returning with Miss Johns to Waco from a concert at Temple. The two cars crashed head on at a turn in the highway about two miles south of Waco.

Drought, prominent in San Antonio society, circled his living Temple where he was working for the Brazos River Conservation District.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Henry Drought, and three brothers, H. P. Drought, Humphreys, and Francis T. Drought, all of San Antonio.

Turkeys - Turkeys

Government estimate of this year's Turkey crop, twenty million head. This is entirely too many. You can help the dealers market this crop for best price possible by selling only your well matured birds, hens weighing nine pounds up, and toms fourteen pounds up. We think it would be wise to sell forty percent of Turkeys for Thanksgiving and keep sixty percent for Xmas. This is about the proportion the markets will take to best advantage.

Government estimate of this year's Turkey crop, twenty million head. This is entirely too many. You can help the dealers market this crop for best price possible by selling only your well matured birds, hens weighing nine pounds up, and toms fourteen pounds up. We think it would be wise to sell forty percent of Turkeys for Thanksgiving and keep sixty percent for Xmas. This is about the proportion the markets will take to best advantage.

FREESTONE COUNTY WOMAN IS BURNED; LIST GRAND JURORS

FAIRFIELD, Nov. 7.—(Spl.)—Mrs. Loyd Awall of Steward's Mill was seriously burned Wednesday. It is reported that she was standing in front of a sheet iron heater when the draft drew the skirt of her dress into the stove. Her lower limbs and body were burned.

The WPA sewing rooms were opened in Freestone county Monday after having been closed for the past eleven weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lee and Mrs. Tol Sparks and Miss Eva Tidwell attended the meeting of the rural and home supervisors of the third district of the re-education administration in Crockett Wednesday, October 28th. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans for the coming year.

Grand Jury.
The grand jury organized for the November term included: J. Sid Ham, foreman; F. S. Coleman, Streetman; W. B. Savage, Donie; L. C. Coleman, Kir-ling; A. V. Neal, Winkler; W. K. Bonner, Streetman; E. H. Henderson, Dew; M. F. Lindsey, Teague; J. H. Keys, Wortham; R. E. Petty, Buffalo; J. H. Biggs, Freestone; J. H. Robinson, door baliff; sheriff's department, riding baliffs.

Wedding.
Woodrow Ivy, young business man of Fairfield, and Miss Lillie Forhand of Centerville, were married in Centerville Saturday night. Immediately after the wedding they left for Southwest Texas and Old Mexico for a wedding trip.

Business Club Meets.
Inclement weather reduced the attendance of the Fairfield B. and C. Club dinner at the Cook Hotel Tuesday evening, although it did not prevent an interesting affair. W. F. Tate, president of the club, presided. Fifty dollars was pledged to the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and most of the money was raised at the meeting.

Cranberry Sherbet

Cranberry Sherbet
(Serves With Main Course)
1 cup berries 1 teaspoon
1 cup water 1/2 cup lemon
1 cup sugar rind
1 cup milk 1 tablespoon

Boll berries and water until berries are soft. Press through sieve, add rind and juice to sugar. When mixed, slowly add berry juice and milk. Pour into freezer and freeze until stiff.

This sherbet can be frozen in mechanical refrigerator by beating well at 30 minute intervals during first 2 hours. It will require about 4 hours to freeze.

Thousand Island Dressing
1/2 cup soft butter 1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup mayonnaise 1/2 cup chopped
1/2 cup chili 1 teaspoon
1/2 cup sauce 1/2 cup minced
1/2 cup plums 1/2 cup lemon
1/2 cup lemon juice 1/2 cup lemon

Mix and chill ingredients and serve on crisp head lettuce.

Southern Pecan Tarts
1 unbaked tart 1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup pecans
1/2 cup corn 1/2 cup pecan salt
1/2 cup syrup 1/2 cup pecan
1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup pecan

Mix sugar and syrup and butter, heat and pour over eggs, beat and cool. Add pecans, salt and vanilla. Fill unbaked pastry cases fitted in muffin pans or small pie pans. Bake 35 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and when served spread with whipped cream. Rich but delicious!

A few dates, raisins, figs or nuts added to the cooked cereal frequently tempt the lagging appetite of the school child. A bit of jelly or jam placed on top may also do the trick.

COTTON FARMERS WARNED NOT GROW INCREASED ACREAGE

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 9.—(Spl.)—"In the face of a large world carry-over of cotton, it is obvious that American cotton farmers may expect to encounter lowered prices if they greatly increase production in 1937," W. E. Morgan, Texas extension economist, said in commenting on the outlook report from Washington, D. C., that the world supply of cotton is the largest in three years.

"The increase in world supply is due to marked increase of production in Russia, Brazil, and China," he added.

The tendency toward lowered prices, however, would be offset to some extent if the general price level continues to rise or if there is further improvement in demand for the staple, Morgan said. An encouraging fact as part of the general outlook on cotton, he continued, is that government figures indicate the cotton and supply situation is favorable to maintaining prices of cotton seed and cotton seed products at higher levels this season than last.

"A point worthy of consideration," Morgan said, "is that proved quality of Texas cotton would tend to strengthen the competitive position of American cotton and to make it more salable at home."
